TONOPAH COLONY NEAR SAN DIEGO

One of the prettiest suburbs of San Diego is going to have a regular Tonopah colony, according to the terms of a gift made recently by Mike Hall in memory of his brother, Jack Hall. To carry out the idea Mr. Hall has set aside fifty lots, each 40x125 in the fashionable Bird Rock section within eight minutes walk of the finest beach on the southern coast where bathing may be enjoyed every day of the year. The only stipulation is that the recipients improve their lots by building at an early day, comfortable homes conforming to the designs which have made Bird Rock one of the show spots of San Diego. In addition to securing a seaside home the owner of lots in this section have the advantage of the finest soil for garden products where anything from citrus fruits to vegetables can be raised with scarcely an effort.

The location is directly on the Lincoln Highway between Los Angeles and San Diego. Already there is the nucleus of a live and congenial colony owing to the presence of such men as W. J. Douglas, Al. Prevett, Jim Butler, Ed Kirchen and ye editor, and others who have built beautiful homes. Since the first announcement several lots have taken lots and several contracts for construction are now in the making.
